Alexandria Gazette

SATURDAY EVENING, FEBR'Y. 22.

A society has been formed in London with the object of reforming extravagance in the use of fashionable mourning, which is carried to great excess in that country. The members of the association pledge themselves, by precept and example, to discourage the wearing of mourning by all classes of people, and agree to press the reform in print and from the platform. The society, in fact, is meant to be a vigorous pretest against the symbolic dress of fashionable grief, which is so intricate and difficult to follow in all its datails that fashionable mourned. to follow in all its details that fashionable mourning establishments are said to provide their customers with special manuals of instruction.

The head of a mule is too heavy for the other portions of his body. It makes his hind feet fly up too easy.

An impossible feat for a female pedestrian is to walk 1,000 miles in 1,000 hours past 1,000 milinery stores displaying the latest stylest of spring bonnets.

Its policy is to do justice without fear, favor or affection; to give honest judgments of public measures and public men; but to trench on the sacred privacy of no man's hearthstone.
